Before:
Pitting, rust and brown water
in an unprotected pipe system.

After:
Protective layer and clear water.

Prevention pays

Corrosion and lime-scale damage thousands of unprotected water pipes every year. The JULIA dosing unit is designed to prevent your domestic water pipe from such damages by economically dosing a mineral solution into the pipeline system that builds up a protective layer on the surface of the tubes.

Always the right model

JULIA is available in five practical sizes for all applications – from a detached single family house up to large housing complexes.
